FWD Magazine, June 25/06
 On Ricca Razor Sharp: "On point with his prose and deft in his delivery, 12 Steps stands up to repeated listening...he's got something to say and he's damn good at sayin' it."
 On Mantrakid's Production: "The kid's really hit his stride on this release. (the beats) catch you off-guard and leave you grinnin' with their imaginative change-ups and subtle trickery."
 On the album: "Let us dispense with the tired "pretty good for Calgary" or "pretty good for Canada" or even "pretty good for underground" bullshit. 12 Steps to a Deffer You is plain ol' pretty good."

EXCLAIM, November 2006, Thomas Quinlan
 On Ricca Razor Sharp: "His flow is solid, with an early '90s influence, and is easy to understand...once Ricca has your attention, he doesn't let go."
 On Mantrakid's Production: "The two have a natural chemistry that is evident throughout the album."

CALGARY SUN, Mike Bell, June 26/06
 On Ricca Razor Sharp: "(For fun) You don't have to look much further than '12 Steps to a Deffer You,' (it) features rhymes, beats and an approach recalling acts such as the Beastie Boys and Cypress Hill."
 On Mantrakid's Production: "expertly produced"
